“After a short drive from the city centre everyone was able to meet and relax in the clubhouse enjoying a selection of meals and drinks. David has great attitude and knowledge for the game which he is able to communicate to groups and individuals of all ages and skill levels. The short game session was fun, informative and the new learning studio let fellow golfers try the latest in golf technology. A great way to spend a few hours with colleagues out of the office”.

Testimonial from Maven Capital Partners, a corporate client who utilised the services from our Professional, David Orr.
